

About Anzio Williams

News Director, KCRA 3 Sacramento

As News Director of Hearst-Argyle's third largest station, Anzio is responsible for all news content on KCRA3, MY58, KCRA 3 Weather Plus, and KCRA.com. He arrived in Sacramento in March of 2007, just as the station launched the area's first HD newscast. A native of Durham, North Carolina and a graduate of North Carolina A&T State University, Anzio is living his childhood dream of working in television news. He has been a producer, executive producer, or assistant news director in numerous markets including: Greensboro, NC, Miami, FL, Cincinnati, OH, Charlotte, NC, and Orlando, FL. Before heading

West, Anzio was the News Director at WDSU-TV in New Orleans and helped lead his team of journalists through the worst natural disaster in U.S. history. His New Orleans staff has been recognized by several national organizations for their actions during Katrina, including winning an Emmy Award for best Continuing News Coverage. Taking over as News Director of Sacramento's longtime, dominant, #1 news organization maybe Anzio's biggest challenge yet. Stay tuned to see how the rest of the story will be written.
